Local Educational Television Outlet Proposed By FCC

Possibilities of securing an educational television outlet at Bowling Green were given a boost Friday when the Federal Communications Commission in Washington proposed an outlet for the University.

The action would assign channel 70 to Bowling Green at the request of the University. Under the provisions of a bill being considered by the Ohio legislature, Bowling Green would be joined by Ohio State University, Kent State University, Miami University at Oxford, and Ohio University in making up a statewide educational television network.

Proposal of the new outlet is expected to result in assignment of a wave length to the University in the near future.

Spring Eyas Brings Interesting Reading, Varied Comments

By DR. GILES R. FLOYD

Assoc. Prof. of English

The spring number of "Eyas," campus literary magazine, is being read with much interest and evoking numerous and varied comments from all sides. Edited by June Emery, assisted by Gene Hnatko, and illustrated by Marlene Swanzel and Mary J. Connolly, this issue contains contributions from the pens of a baker's dozen students, and compares favorably with previous numbers and with other college publications of its kind.

It is prefaced with "A Note from the Editors" acquainting the reader with the origin of the magazine and making clear its purpose: to provide "young Falcons" with literary ambitions an opportunity to try their wings, and to encourage and help develop standards of high quality in the work of students having the urge to write.

Prize-Winners

The prize-winning prose piece is "Another's Wine," by George H. Miller, Jr., a short story disclosing why Melville Jenkins is attracted to Teresa McTavish, an unattached librarian and why she is interested in him. The prize for the best poem was awarded to Alan C. Nichols for his "Weaver's Trade," a brief composition notable for its imagery and its success in metaphorically communicating one major idea.

Other short stories include Marjorie Decker's "Jeannie," Lee Ellison's "The Clod," Robert Albert's "Cycle," Donald Warner's "Toes in the Sand" and "Brother Ben," and a second story by George Miller, Jr., which many readers will consider an even better tale than his "Another's Wine." The remaining prose contribution is an essay by John R. Damer suggesting a novel way of "beating the races."

First Efforts Praised

Among the other poems, several of them praise-worthy first efforts, are Janice Everingham's "Strings," Shirley Good's "Pulsing Through the Jungle Mist" and "When My Soul's Great Longing," Don Noland's "Spare Minute," Hal Jacobson's "The Shadow and the Rain," Jean Butler's "Incandescence, Age Two," and Don Noland's "Order."

The editorial staff, the faculty advisors (Grayce M. Scholt and Frederick R. McLeod), and each of the contributors are to be congratulated for bringing out such an interesting magazine.

Senior SICSIC Sez So Long

Al Nichols and John Grossman post their last SICSIC sign.

By JERRY KLEVER

At a secret pre-dawn meeting at a campus rendezvous last week end, Alan C. Nichols and John H. Grossman were revealed as the graduating members of SICSIC, an anonymous spirit organization.

Nichols, a senior majoring in speech therapy, is a member of Alpha Tau Omega fraternity, and Theta Alpha Phi, dramatics honorary. He is from Cleveland Heights.

From Cincinnati, Grossman is a senior majoring in accounting. He has been active in Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity, student court, and Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's leadership honorary.

SICSIC, whose objective is to add to campus spirit, is composed of two men from each of the upper classes. The group is organized very loosely, except for an acting president, according to Grossman. Two new underclassmen are contacted by letter each year to replace the graduating seniors.

"The group has moved twice this year," declared Nichols. In the fall, they were operating from a private home. Then they moved to the PA Bldg. basement, but were bothered with thefts of paint and material. Present permanent headquarters remain a secret. Costumes worn by SICSIC while decorating the campus usually include a mask or hood, overalls, and a hat.

The two men estimated that they spent more than six hours each painting signs the night before the recent all-campus election. Official contact with the group may be made by consulting Pres. Ralph W. McDonald's secretary who acts as a liaison. Grossman and Nichols stated that SICSIC is continually searching for new ideas and welcomes any suggestions.

Results of the April 21 election for Women's Recreational Association officers were released recently by the executive board.

Anne Swigart was elected president; Sue Carlisle, vice-president; Ruth White, secretary; Fran Isch, treasurer; Natalie Hessler, corresponding secretary; Kay Metz, publicity chairman; Ann Dunipace, social chairman; and Audrey Perrine, historian-recorder.

Dr. Pelton Gives Talks

Dr. Warren J. Pelton of the education department will be the guest speaker at the annual Spring Dessert given by the Association for Childhood Education tomorrow.

Sophomore, Senior Officers Announced

Thomas Conway, Falcon Hall, was chosen sophomore class president at last Wednesday's record election. He will be assisted by Daniel Wawrzyniak as vice-president, and Janet Morris is secretary. Ballots have not yet been counted for treasurer.

Secretary of the senior class for next year will be Mary Jane Harold. Nancy Schumacher was elected treasurer of the senior class.

Fran Miller was chosen treasurer of the junior class. Other class officers and Senate representatives were named in Friday's paper.

Upperclass Women Now Declared Eligible For Fall Rushing

Rushing for upperclass women who make a 2.2 accumulative average this spring will take place next fall.

Freshmen women's rushing will continue to be held second semester. Also, second semester rushing for those upperclassmen who didn't make grades in the spring but did in the fall will continue.

Panhellenic is now planning next year's rushing schedule. To date, one change has been made. In the formal series of parties, the first party will require less work (there will be no decorations, or costumes) whereas the second party will be complete in every way. This is a reverse of the past year's schedule.

There are slightly more than 19,000 motion picture theaters in the United States.

President Approves Plan Permitting Seniors To Drive, Women To Ride

Effective immediately, car rules are modified until graduation.

This will be known as an "experimental period" in which relaxation of the existing car regulations will be studied.

As to its effect on the campus, "Responsibility of the individual is prominent at this time," according to Pres. Ralph W. McDonald.

If relaxation of the automobile regulations is found acceptable, their permanent modification will be suggested to the Board of Trustees at its Commencement meeting.

Two groups are involved in the modified plans:

1. Any June graduate may drive a car if it is registered in 201A and has a sticker. A written statement of approval from parents or a guardian will be needed, also.

2. All women students may ride without permission, within the city limits of Bowling Green, if a statement of permission from parents or a guardian is filed with the Dean of Women's office. Special permission from the Dean's office will be required to travel out of town, however.

Details of the modifications have been planned by the Council on Student Affairs which was charged with the study by Pres. McDonald in the fall. The Council's recommendations were submitted to Dr. McDonald last week.

"We feel that students should be permitted to exercise their own judgment on such affairs," the President declared.

An orderly, receptive crowd packed the Main Auditorium yesterday noon to attend a meeting called by the administration to explain details of the modified rules. Invited were seniors and women students who heard Pres. McDonald state that this experiment is an administrative change. "The Board of Trustees must make basic changes in the car rules," he said.

Plans are now being developed to open more parking space this summer.

In Our Opinion

About Car Rule Modification

Out riding; will discuss them later.

Student Affairs Satisfactory

Our very hearty thanks go to a group that decides all major policy questions concerning students on this campus. The Council of Student Affairs deserves best wishes for laying the groundwork for two basic changes in student life this semester: Ac fees and car regulations.

This group has taken on the job of recognizing problems facing students, making detailed studies, and then submitting recommendations to the administration so that changes may be made. The Council has five administrative members, three faculty members, and (since the beginning of the year), four student members.

Without such an efficient administrative planning group, students would probably never be able to examine their position or ease their problems to the benefit of all. May the Council continue its work with full freedom and expediency.

Victory Emphasizes Responsibility

Now that the flurry of last week's all-campus election is over, 29 winning candidates are becoming acquainted with their newly-acquired Senate and class posts.

They've accepted the confidence of student voters to whom they must be more responsible than this year's office-holders, who had a pitifully small electorate. At this time they are to be congratulated on their worthwhile victory. Their excellent performances while in office next year, however, will be a refreshing and lasting gain for student morale and prestige.

Club Gives Plaque, Ends Spirit Trophy

The Boosters Club Spirit Trophy has been abolished because the club could find no fair means of deciding who should receive the trophy and also because it caused too much competition between fraternities and sororities, said Gerald Rader, club president.

This year at the Honors Day program the club will present a plaque to be hung in the Men's Gym on which will be inscribed the names of the year's outstanding athletes in nine sports. Rader said this will be an annual presentation and the plaque is large enough to be used for 10 years for this purpose.

At the last meeting the constitution was revised and the club decided to find out how to encourage more school spirit in the coming year.

Band Plays Second In Concert Series

The second in this year's series of twilight concerts, performed by the 65-piece University Concert Band, will be presented at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow on the lawn of the PA Bldg., according to Arthur C. Zuelzke, assistant professor of music.

Included in the program are: "Marcho Scherzo" by Moore, and "March Slav" by Tchaikowsky, directed by Mr. Zuelzke; "Lady of Spain" by Tolchard Evans, directed by Carol Ruffer; "Liebesliker Waltz" by Johann Strauss, directed by Richard Ecker of the music faculty; "Grand Symphony for Band," with trombone solo, by Louis Hector Berlioz, directed by David Glasmiere of the music faculty; "Fugue," written and directed by Frank Wilcox of the music faculty; "Sinfonietta," by Miller, also directed by Mr. Wilcox; "On the Trail" by Grofe, directed by Nancy Weatherston; "Andalucia" by Ernesto Lecuona, directed by Suzanne Ward; and "Stars and Stripes Forever" by Sousa, directed by Mr. Zuelzke.

The trombone solo in "Grand Symphony for Band" will be performed by David Nizny.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

What a pleasure it is to observe that 70 per cent of the BGSU students were interested enough in their student government to vote. This is a fine record.

The League of Women Voters seeks to encourage interest and participation in government. Thus, we hope that the interest students have shown in this election will continue both in the coming years at Bowling Green and beyond their graduation.

Mrs. B. F. Nordman, president
League of Women Voters of Bowling Green

Dear Editor: We believe that the relationship between the United Action Committee and the Men's Independent Society was misunderstood during the last election by some students. As a point of clarification, we think it should be pointed out that there never was, nor is there likely to be, an agreement or partnership between the two organizations.

The question of MIS supporting the UAC was discussed by MIS members, but it was never agreed upon as organization policy to support UAC.

It is true that many MIS members feel that the UAC is making a definite, positive contribution to campus politics and should be supported individually. On the other hand, they felt that the UAC should be a democratic political organization representing no single group, dominated by no single group, but responsible only to the whole campus community.

Dear Editor:

Congratulations to you and members of your staff on the recent winning of first place in the Ohio Collegiate Press contest. Being judged the best college paper published more than once a week is a distinct honor and I hope that this serves as an inspiration to all of you throughout your lives.

Many of you may enter some field of journalism, and certainly this foundation will serve you well in your endeavors, so important to our American heritage.

McKay Requests Employment Information In Memorandum

According to Robert E. McKay, coordinator of student financial aids, a memorandum has been sent to supervisors of student employees concerning summer employment. These memoranda are to list by department or agency the number and type of student employment needed.

Students enrolled for the summer semester who want student employment should contact the departmental chairmen or Professor McKay before May 15.

With the memorandum Professor McKay has attached a paper estimating need for student employment in each of the departments or agencies for the first semester of the 1953-54 school year. This attached paper contains a breakdown estimate of the type and classification of jobs, number of student-hours needed per semester, general description of work involved, and other information.

Professor McKay also stated that students who are returning to school next year and want student employment for the first time should get in touch with him before the end of the current semester.

BG Second To W. Mich. In Annual Cinder Relays

By BILL ROGERS

Powerful Western Michigan continued its dominance over Bowling Green Saturday in the third annual Bowling Green Relays as it edged the Falcons by taking five firsts to four for BG.

Central Michigan piled up seven firsts in the Class B division, setting new records each time. Ohio Wesleyan won three relays to take second place in the B division.

More than 1,000 student fans were on hand to watch athletes from high schools, fraternities, and colleges run to new records on a perfect day for track. One record was set in the A division while 10 were set in the B division.

Maurice Sandy, James Zickles, and Roger McKenzie gave the Falcons the only new record in the Class A division as they broad-jumped a total of 64 feet 2 1/2 inches. Sandy had the best individual jump of the day, a leap of 22 feet 1 inch.

Bertelsen Finishes Fast

Bowling Green scored its other firsts in the discus, two-mile relay, and distance medley. Jay England, Bob Beard, and Bill Bradshaw threw the discus a total of 346 feet 10 inches. In the two-mile relay, Hilliard Roane and Ray Bertelsen turned in beautiful legs to nip Wayne at the finish in the time of 8:09.9. Roane ate up a 15-yard deficit running in the third spot to pull BG even with Wayne as Bertelsen took the baton for the anchor leg. Matching the Wayne runner stride for stride, Bertelsen closed fast to win by five yards.

Jerry Sullivan, Hilliard Roane, Bertelsen, and Marvin Crosten ran on the winning distance medley relay team for the Falcons.

Western Michigan firsts came in the 440-yard relay, 880-yard relay, shuttle hurdles, sprint medley relay, and the pole vault. BG scored three seconds and tied for a fourth in the high jump.

Bradshaw Vaults 12 Feet

One of the finest performances of the day was by Bill Bradshaw in the pole vault. Bradshaw vaulted 12 feet to tie for the individual high in the Class A division. Jerry Sullivan also deserves credit for his time of 50.0 seconds in running his quarter-mile leg of the distance medley relay team.

In the fraternity division, Delta Tau Delta captured the 440. Phi Delta Theta copped the 880 relay.

Tennis Team Faces Ohio Northern
Coach Ken Walker's netmen will be at home this week for two encounters. Today they will face Ohio Northern on the BG courts and Thursday afternoon they meet powerful Detroit here.

This will be the first year the Falcons will tangle with the Ohio Northern crew. Coach Walker's crew is hoping to end its three-game losing streak.

Detroit has four returning lettermen back from last year's squad. The University of Detroit defeated the Orange and Brown last year 9-0. This meet is the first of a two-game series with the Titans this year. The Falcons will meet them again later in the season at Detroit.

Bowling Green is expected to go along with Manny Koginos, Al Bianchi, Don Jones, Dave Angus, and Dick Schultz in both of these contests. Bowling Green's record is now 2-3.

Farmers Win Again In Independent Ball; Undefeated In Loop

With three complete rounds of games played thus far in independent softball, the Fighting Farmers hold the lead in League I, and the B. Wingers and the Intoxicants are tied for the lead in League II.

The Fighting Farmers held their lead in League I by blasting the Hitless Wonders 20-8 as they scored four runs in the first inning and eight more in the third to pull to an early lead. The only bright spot for the Hitless Wonders during the game was a triple play which they executed.

In other League I games, the Moon Dogs scored eight runs in the first inning and held the lead despite a last inning rally by the Worthless Wonders to win 16-14. MIS undoubtedly set a new record by scoring 18 runs in one inning, the fifth, as they downed Seagrams 7&2 27-15.

Only two games were played in League II, but both were close scores. The B. Wingers defeated the Sphinx Club 11-9 and the W. H. Depumas scored six runs in the seventh inning to edge SIM 13-12.

Linksmen To Meet Strong TU Quintet

Falcon linksmen suffered two setbacks last week, losing to Western Michigan 16-2, Wednesday, and Wayne 10-8, Friday.

The Bowling Green team, with a current 3-5 record, will resume play here again today against Toledo. The Rocket golfers, who beat the Falcons earlier, will have Shamus in the number one slot, and Shambough backing him up in the second man honors.

Against Western Michigan here, Jim Dysinger turned in the day's low score of 76 for the Falcons. Jack Gregory led Wayne golfers with a 69 low total in Friday's match, also played at the local course. Dysinger's 73 was tops for the Falcon effort.

Dave Slough, Falcon number one man, who was on a geology field trip last week, will be back in action this afternoon.

Frat Softball In Final Week; Phi Deltas Lead

Sigma Nu and Phi Delta Theta continue to hold their leads and remain undefeated as fraternity softball enters the last week of regular play. The winners of each league will then meet for the championship next week.

In League I, Phi Delta Theta ended its regular season play with a five win, no loss record Wednesday, May 6, as Glen Freimark limited Sigma Phi Epsilon to only three hits and registered a 10-0 victory. Other League II games saw Sigma Alpha Epsilon edge Pi Kappa Alpha 5-2, and Delta Upsilon winning over Theta Chi 5-2. Only one game remains to be played in this league, between Delta Upsilon and Pi Kappa Alpha.

Three Games Remain

Sigma Nu remained unbeaten in three games to hold the lead in League II, as they scored three runs in the top of the seventh on a bases loaded double by Bill Foley, to edge out Kappa Sigma 5-2. Sigma Nu has three games remaining, with Alpha Tau Omega, Sigma Chi, and Delta Tau Delta. These games will be played this week, weather permitting. In other games played in League II, Phi Kappa Psi scored five runs in the fifth inning and four more in the sixth to beat Sigma Chi 12-9. Alpha Tau Omega scored five runs in the second inning and three more in the third and went on to a 9-1 victory over Zeta Beta Tau.

Broncos Throw Falcon Nine Twice 10-7, 15-5; Doran Loses

The Broncos of Western Michigan pranced to a double victory over Bowling Green in two Mid-American ball games at Kalamazoo's Hyames Field last week end.

Western Michigan whipped the Falcons, 10-7 Friday and then took an easy 15-5 victory Saturday. Bowling Green hit well in both contests but poor pitching and fielding caused its downfall.

In Friday's game, the Falcons started fast. They scored three runs in the first inning. However, Western roared back to chase Falcon starter, Don Doran, with a six run outburst.

The Broncos were paced by the relief pitching of Rog Eggers and the hitting of Dave Gottschalk. Eggers put out the first inning fire and pitched scoreless ball for six innings until the eighth. Gottschalk, the clever second baseman, contributed three singles and a double.

Bowling Green battled the Broncos on near even terms for five innings Saturday. Trailing 3-0, the Falcons plated a run in the sixth as Glenn Matter and Phil Sekerchak singled and worked the double steal with Matter scoring. However, in Western's half of the sixth the roof collapsed. The Broncos paraded 11 runs across the plate. Duane Emaar's bases-loaded homer was the big blow.

The Falcons ended their tallying with a pair of scores in each of the last two innings. Consecutive singles by Tom Mote, Sekerchak, and Mike Scarr, coupled with Gene Bunker's grounder gave them two runs in the eighth. In the ninth, Sekerchak's single with two on netted the final brace of scores.

Women's Intramural Softball Announced

The schedule for women's intramural softball has been announced for this week. Games to be played today at 4 p.m. are as follows: Diamond 1, Alpha Gamma Delta vs. Phi Mu; Diamond 2, Williams Hall vs. Chi Omega; Diamond 3, Delta Gamma vs. Alpha Phi; Diamond 4, Alpha Delta Pi vs. Snookers; Diamond 5, Shatzel Hall vs. Kappa Delta; Diamond 6, Alpha Chi Omega vs. Gamma Phi Beta.

On Thursday at 4 p.m. the games are as follows: Diamond 1, Alpha Delta Pi vs. Kappa Delta; Diamond 2, Alpha Chi Omega vs. Snookers; Diamond 3, Gamma Phi Beta vs. Shatzel Hall; Diamond 4, Alpha Gamma Delta vs. Delta Gamma; Diamond 5, Alpha Phi vs. Williams Hall; Diamond 6, Chi Omega vs. Phi Mu.

Although Bowling Green outhit Western, 21-20, in the two-game series, the locals defense left much to be desired. Nine errors and twelve walks were the big factors in Saturday's loss.

Falcon hurler Don Doran suffered an unusual form reversal. After winning two games at Toledo the week before, he found himself tagged with both losses at Western Michigan.

He Eats Hamburg On A Pun And Relishes It

By JAMES LIMBACHER

The greatest day of my life was the day I discovered the pun. I feel that day was more important than getting my first tooth, plunging into puberty, my first date or any of many other assorted landmarks in one's life.

Playing on words has become a fascinating pastime with me, although to most of my friends it has come to the point of being disgusting. But I can't help it. My instinct to pounce upon a word is uncontrollable. I've got to say it!

Louder And Punnier

It started with just English words. One of my friends said, "Next year I'm going to NYU." And I answered "N. Y. not?" When one of my Eysas friends said he got up in the middle of the night to write down a poem, I said, "Aha, going from bed to verse!" And so on.

Then I discovered parlograms (sometimes called Fractured French) and, even though I didn't understand French, I seemed by instinct to catch on. When someone told me that Jeanne D'Arc was was a bathroom without a light, I doubled up with hysterics and it took minutes for me to calm down for the next blow which was mal de mer (mother in law) briskly followed by S'il vous plait (not sterling).

No sooner had the novelty of parlograms worn off, when along came hablograms with Spanish word insinuations such as hace mucho calor (sorry, it has too many calories) followed by Italo-grams featuring papa roma (father never stays home) and O sole mio (there's a hole in my shoe.)

Then Garbled Greek

But the greatest challenge of my career was yet to come. Recently, someone brought me a clipping from a magazine which featured the most challenging word game yet. It was Garbled Greek. It was challenging. No longer were words used—just the 24 Greek letters—and from them we made our garbled sentences.

Garbled Greek sounds like a sentence and is twice as funny as parlograms. I showed the first example to one of my fraternity brothers and he folded up completely. It was Chi Rho Gamma (an Egyptian grandmother). Now that he was in my power, I quickly followed this up with others:

Becomes Alpha Addict

Gamma Gamma Gamma (chorus line), Omega Nu Pi (for Pete's sake, let's have lemon meringue for a change!), Nu Nu Nu (positively not), Alpha Alpha (hayfield), Nu Theta Rho (they've added some seats at the Cla-Zel), Epsilon Pi (apple slices on a tart), Mu, Mu (I just bought a kitten), Eta Rho (the shad are running again), Iota Eta Lambda (I wish I'd ordered mutton), Phi (shame on you), and Iota Nu Beta (I shouldn't have done it).

By this time we were both crying so hard that I couldn't say the rest of them. I sent him home a few minutes later begging him to pull himself together so I wouldn't be accused of running an opium den on Manville Ave. But he just kept on staggering, crying and laughing until he faded out of sight.

Realizing that Garbled Greek was going to have a terrible effect on my friends, I tried to give it up. But I couldn't. At night I would lie in bed and think them up. Let's see, Tau Alpha (I saw an elephant), Iota Psi (I should feel relieved) and Zeta Kappa (are you wearing a beanie?).

And so it goes. And can I give it up? Nu Nu Nu!

Delta Tau Delta fraternity, with runners Hugh Schick and Richard Jewett and passenger James Stoddard, posted the fastest time ever recorded, 19.1 seconds over the 150-yard course, to annex top honors in the men's division of the sixth annual Kappa Sigma Chariot Race on the practice field Saturday. Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Chi gathered second and third places respectively.

Winner in the women's division was Alpha Delta Pi sorority with a time of 12.2 seconds for the 75-yard run. They were followed by Alpha Chi Omega and Kohl Hall. Trainer Sawdy Among Best, Has Built Up BG Facilities

"He's one of the best in the business!"

That's what coaches who should know say about Bowling Green's trainer, Al Sawdy. A strong, well-built man with a friendly smile, Al Sawdy is the person responsible for keeping Falcon athletes patched up and sore muscles and sprains held to a minimum.

Mr. Sawdy has been trainer at Bowling Green since April 17, 1944. Before that, he was trainer at Postoria High School from 1933 to 1941, trainer for the Detroit Lions professional football team in 1942, and swimming coach at Beloit College in 1943.

The Falcon trainer graduated from Michigan State Normal in 1930. While in school, he was football teammate of George Muellich. Mr. Muellich is presently a member of the Bowling Green coaching staff. After graduation, Mr. Sawdy became football coach at Postoria. Three years later, he decided to quit coaching and devote all his time to being a trainer.

Learned The Hard Way

Training is now a recognized field, but when Al Sawdy started he had to learn the hard way—by experience. He worked for awhile at the Meyers Institute of Body Culture in Detroit and later attended the College of Swedish Massage in Chicago.

Since coming to Bowling Green, he has built our training facilities to the point where they are among the best in the nation's small colleges.

In 1936 Mr. Sawdy decided that trainers should have some sort of organization. In his own words, "I was instrumental in founding the Ohio-Michigan-Indiana Trainer's Association which was formed in 1936. The first meeting was held at Bowling Green. With seven charter members attending, I was elected the first president. We thought our organization was the first in the country, but to our great surprise, a similar organization had sprung up in the East one month before."

Started Swimming Program

Within three years, a national organization had brought all the smaller sectional organizations together. Al Sawdy likes to believe that this national organization

McDonald Addresses Sigma Delta Chi

"An Educator Views the Press, Radio, and TV," is the subject of Dr. Ralph W. McDonald's talk at a meeting of the northwestern Ohio professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi Wednesday. Dr. McDonald will speak at an evening dinner meeting in the faculty room of the Nest. Sigma Delta Chi is a professional journalism fraternity.

An initiation meeting will also be held in Studio B in the PA Bldg. earlier in the evening. The four initiates are John M. Harrison, assistant editor of the Toledo Blade; Robert Kriehoff, program director of WTOL; Harry R. Roberts, public relations director of the Toledo Blade; and E. J. Tippet Jr., editor and publisher of the Toledo Legion Press.

The northwestern Ohio professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi is composed of leading newspaper, radio, and television executives of northwestern Ohio. The five members of the University Journalism staff are members of the professional journalism fraternity.

One of Mr. Sawdy's biggest accomplishments at Bowling Green is the summer swimming program he started six years ago. At that time, he was assigned to supervise the pool for the summer months. Student demands are light at this time of year so he attempted to interest Boy and Girl Scout groups to use the pool. When this failed, he started taking children from all over Wood County for swimming instructions. The program has developed so that now there are more than 500 children taking swimming instructions each summer. The program is progressive, taking about five years for one to develop into a good swimmer. Classes last for eight weeks and anyone over four feet tall may take the course. This is to make sure a beginner can keep his head above water while standing on the bottom at the shallow end of the pool.

"We haven't even tapped the county yet. My goal is to take care of 1,000 children each summer," he said.

Holds Swimming Record

His hobbies are hunting, fishing, and recreational swimming. During the first semester when he had 10 o'clock and 11 o'clock swimming classes, Mr. Sawdy would swim a mile before class, a quarter mile between classes, and a quarter mile after class for "leisure exercise."

An unofficial record is held by the trainer for distance swimming in the BG pool. A few years back, he swam 107 lengths without stopping, a distance of slightly more than three miles.

Al is married and has three daughters. The oldest, Jo, is a freshman at Bowling Green.
